NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Wishgarden, the Ohio-based, seven-piece band known for its exuberant spirit and easy-does-it groove, introduces its debut album DUSTY ROADS. * A captivating piece that encapsulates the emotions brought from the life transition from naive youth to mentor paired with a musical styling appealing to folk and bluegrass fans. The full-length album will be available via all major digital retail and streaming platforms on Friday, September XX, 2026. (Distribution by Ed Gertler/Digital Retail Services.)

Produced by Tony Paparella and Spencer Coates at the renowned Fame Studios in Muscle Shoals, Alabama, the musical collection boasts insert number of songs. The articulate but soft vocals of Tony Paparella paint a portrait of the stories being told while avoiding flowery language or complex vocabulary. The dramatic and theatrical stylings of the band provides an energy that keeps the listener engaged and, when paired with Paparella's vocals, create a picturesque landscape of sound.

A natural storyteller and patron poet of the everyday person, Paparella's engaging and animated yet easy going narration brings stories to life through vocal variety, pace and character. Every song feels like a conversation, capturing the wandering and reflective philosophical spirit of his work. Like a spider, Paparella expertly weaves narratives of love, heartbreak, reflection and life experiences with unparalleled realism, No forced lyrics. No rigid melodies or vocal structure; He pulls from personal experience with the emotions that arise when transitioning from a youth to a husband, father, and mentor that adds an authentic emotion to the piece without any pretension.

As an early introduction to the DUSTY ROADS recording project, Wishgarden released the singles "She Was Dreaming," "Tomorrow's Song," "Holy Water" and "Kiss Me Slow." The tracks have enjoyed more than XX cumulative Spotify streams to date.

The physical CD and two-sided vinyl LP will also be available through here

ABOUT

With an infectious, free-spirit energy that blends soulful, roots-rock and folk music with pop sensibilities, Wishgarden embodies nostalgia, intricacy and modern flair. The group of masterful performers delivers an engaging performance enjoyed by audiences of all ages.

The effervescent showmen (and woman) infuse creative, melodic structures with dynamic, foot-stomping, dance rhythms (revved by kickin' electric guitar, flute, sax, trombone and Djembe highlights), and crystal-clear storylines complemented by vibrant harmonies.

The seven-piece band made up of accomplished musicians and extraordinary vocalists writes and performs original tunes that intertwine tradition with innovation and feel-good vibes as a neo-traditional page-turn back to early Bob Dylan, Cat Stevens, Jimmy Buffett and The Mamas & The Papas. When music was groovy and livin' was easy.

The Wishgarden cinematic music video, "In 50 Years," has been recognized by various film organizations, including being named "Best Music Video" (NY Film and Cinematography Awards), receiving a "Gold" award (International Independent Film Awards) and "Silver Medal" (Outstanding Achievement) Global Music Awards (2025).

In September 2026, Wishgarden will introduce its sophomore recording project, recorded at Fame Studios in Muscle Shoals. The lead singles, and focus tracks, serve as a successful introduction to the band's creative works: "She Was Dreaming," "Tomorrow's Song" and "Holy Water" have garnered more than XX cumulative Spotify streams to date.
